EXPLORE WITH NATIONAL GEOGRAPHIC-

Because How You See It Matters

For more than 20 years, the unique collaboration between National Geographic and Lindblad Expeditions has defined modern expedition cruising, forging meaningful relationships between people and the planet through transformative travel experiences. Every voyage blends the legendary exploration spirit of National Geographic with Lindblad Expeditions' unmatched 60+ years of expedition heritage.

SMALL SHIPS THAT TAKE YOU FARTHER

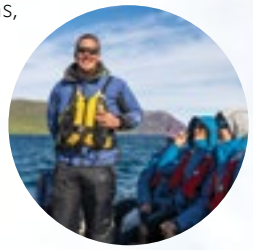

With more than 20 expedition and charter vessels accommodating between 16 and 154 guests, the fleet is among the largest and most varied in expedition cruising. Each small ship is specially designed to explore your destination—crafted for comfort, engineered for access and equipped to bring you up close to the remote and the remarkable.

TAKE GREAT PHOTOS WITH THE PROS

National Geographic Photographers have spent decades traveling the globe, capturing the world's most impactful images. They join select expeditions—and a National Geographic-Lindblad Expeditions certified photo instructor accompanies every departure—to help travelers hone their camera skills in captivating places.

TRAVEL WITH A WORLD-CLASS TEAM

Voyages are led by veteran captains, seasoned guides and National Geographic Expedition Experts,* with 110+ team members contributing a decade or more of fleet experience.

*Available on select departures.

EXPLORE YOUR WAY, EVERY DAY

Itineraries feature a range of immersive activities that bring the pages of National Geographic magazine to life. All excursions are included unless otherwise noted, and each expedition offers options for every skill level so that you can explore your way—and at your own pace—every day.

LINDBLAD EXPEDITIONS

INSPIRING THE NEXT GENERATION OF EXPLORERS

The National Geographic Explorers-in-Training program* nurtures the next generation of global stewards in fun and fascinating places. Led by certified field educators, this hands-on program teaches kids and teens to explore like scientists and tell the stories of their surroundings.

PIONEERING RESPONSIBLE EXPLORATION

The ships in the National Geographic-Lindblad Expeditions fleet are designed to operate efficiently in some of the planet's most remote regions, leveraging nimble design and carefully planned itineraries to reduce environmental impact. Thoughtful choices on board—from eliminating guest-facing single-use plastics to reducing food waste and sourcing locally grown ingredients—help minimize the fleet's footprint while strengthening the communities it visits.

REVEALING UNDERSEA WONDERS

On most departures, an undersea specialist brings marine wonders to the surface by capturing and sharing underwater footage. During nightly recaps, the specialist interprets fascinating sea creatures and geological features, offering insights integral to the story of your destination.

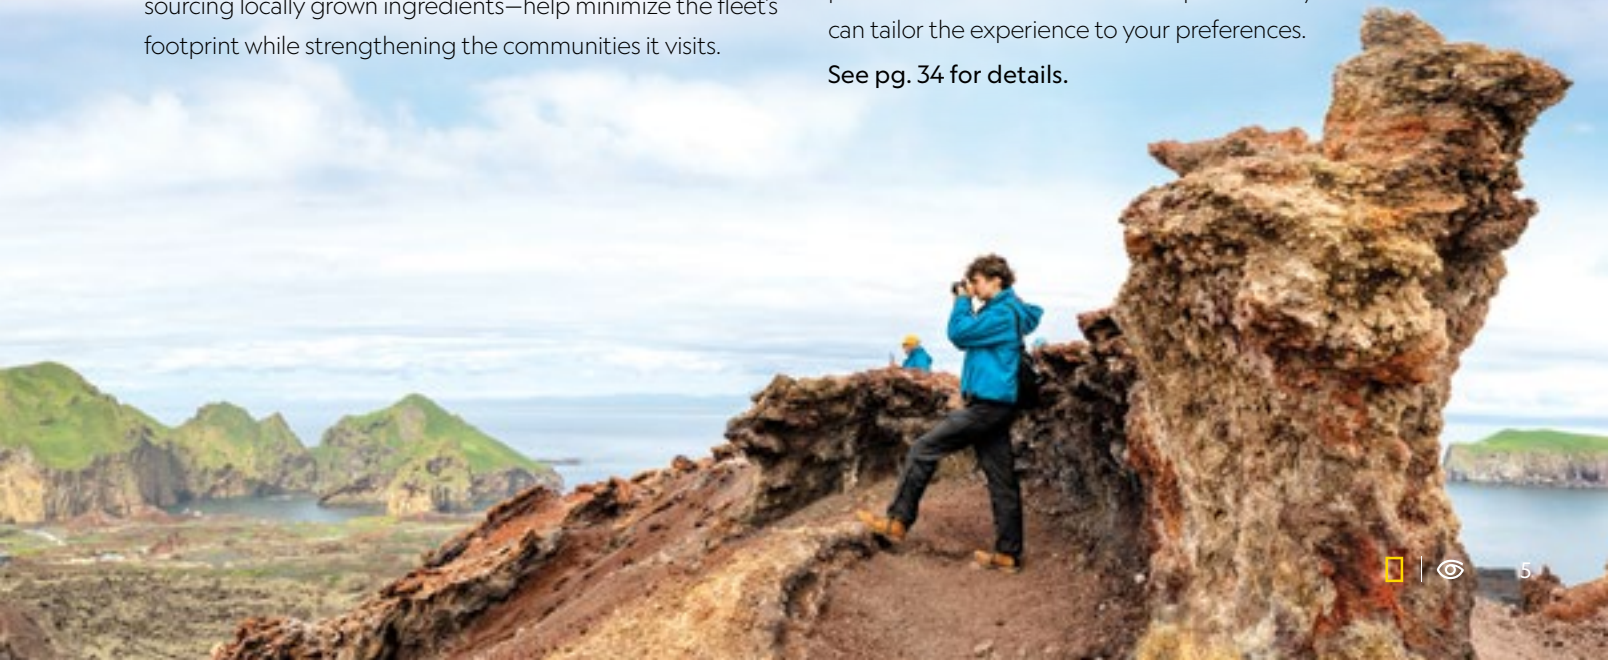

WHAT'S INCLUDED—AND MORE

Everything you need for a complete expedition experience is included—from immersive excursions and engaging talks to meals, alcoholic beverages, onboard amenities, airport transfers, Wi-Fi and more.

To further enhance your journey, we also offer a range of optional customizations for purchase, such as premium alcoholic beverages, spa treatments, additional excursions, photobooks and handcrafted keepsakes—so you can tailor the experience to your preferences.

See pg. 34 for details.

A WILD FRONTIER, WITHIN REACH

The Arctic may feel like the edge of the world—rugged, remote, even unreachable. But with National Geographic-Lindblad Expeditions, this legendary region is closer than you think. Each of our journeys is designed to make the far north not only reachable, but rich with moments of genuine discovery.

Sail aboard a small ship purpose-built for remote exploration. You'll discover an otherworldly realm of glacier-carved fjords, drifting sea ice and extraordinary wildlife—from walruses to breaching whales. Zodiac landings invite you to take a closer look, with hikes across the tundra, visits to remote Arctic communities and much more.

This is exploration made effortless—the wild frontier, within reach.

SEAMLESS BY DESIGN

Arctic voyages with National Geographic-Lindblad Expeditions are designed for ease at every turn. Carefully chosen embarkation points bring you quickly and seamlessly to the heart of the journey, while state-of-the-art polar ships foster discovery. With small groups, a flexible itinerary and a dedicated team managing every detail, your focus stays where it belongs: on the wonder unfolding around you.

UNMATCHED EXPERTISE

Voyages are led by naturalists, cultural specialists and certified photo instructors who infuse every experience with expert insights. National Geographic Expedition Experts and Photographers join select departures, offering unique perspectives and inspiring stories that elevate every moment, while local guest speakers provide authentic connections to the Arctic's living heritage.

ONE REGION, ENDLESS DISCOVERY

The Arctic is a region of incredible variety—from the icy wilderness of Svalbard to the Inuit villages of Greenland. Kayak Norway's fjord-cut coasts, and witness vast seabird colonies on Icelandic shores. Each destination offers a unique lens on the far north, and every day brings new opportunities for discovery.

THE LATEST IN EXPEDITION TRAVEL

Chart your next course with National Geographic-Lindblad Expeditions. For 2027 and 2028, discover new departures, expanded itineraries and opportunities for deeper exploration across some of the Arctic's most compelling destinations. Whether sailing familiar horizons or faraway frontiers, these journeys invite you to see more, learn more and do more.

Baffin Island: Exploring Canada's Wild Arctic Frontier | 13 Days

Sailing its first departures in 2027, this immersive Arctic voyage dedicates six days to exploring Baffin Island—more than any other comparable voyage—offering exceptional opportunities to experience dramatic landscapes, connect with remote communities and search for Arctic wildlife, from seals and walrus to polar bears. See pg. 29.

Southeast Greenland: Exploring at the Edge of the Ice Cap | 10 Days

Explore the remote southeast coast of Greenland on a discovery-driven expedition where ice, weather and wildlife shape each day's adventure, leading you into seldom-visited fjords and along a rugged coastline rich in Inuit heritage. See pg. 17.

The Canadian Maritimes and Newfoundland | 10 Days

Expanded in 2028 with additional departures, this voyage explores Newfoundland's spectacular shores, from Viking settlements and UNESCO World Heritage sites to remote islands rich in maritime history, culture and tradition. See pg. 28.

Fabled Lands of the North: Greenland to Newfoundland | 17 Days

Explore the wildlife-rich coastlines of Baffin Island and remote Labrador—lands of soaring cliffs, tumbling glaciers and centuries of Inuit and Norse history. New for 2028, additional days allow for deeper exploration of this wild and historic region. See pg. 16.

Exploring Greenland's Northeast National Park | 12 Days

Discover Northeast Greenland National Park, where towering fjords and abundant wildlife—from polar bears to musk oxen—showcase the wild beauty of the High Arctic. In 2028, we'll begin offering later-season departures with better opportunities to experience the northern lights. See pg. 15.

Wild Arctic Shores: Circumnavigating Iceland and Exploring Greenland | 10 or 11 Days

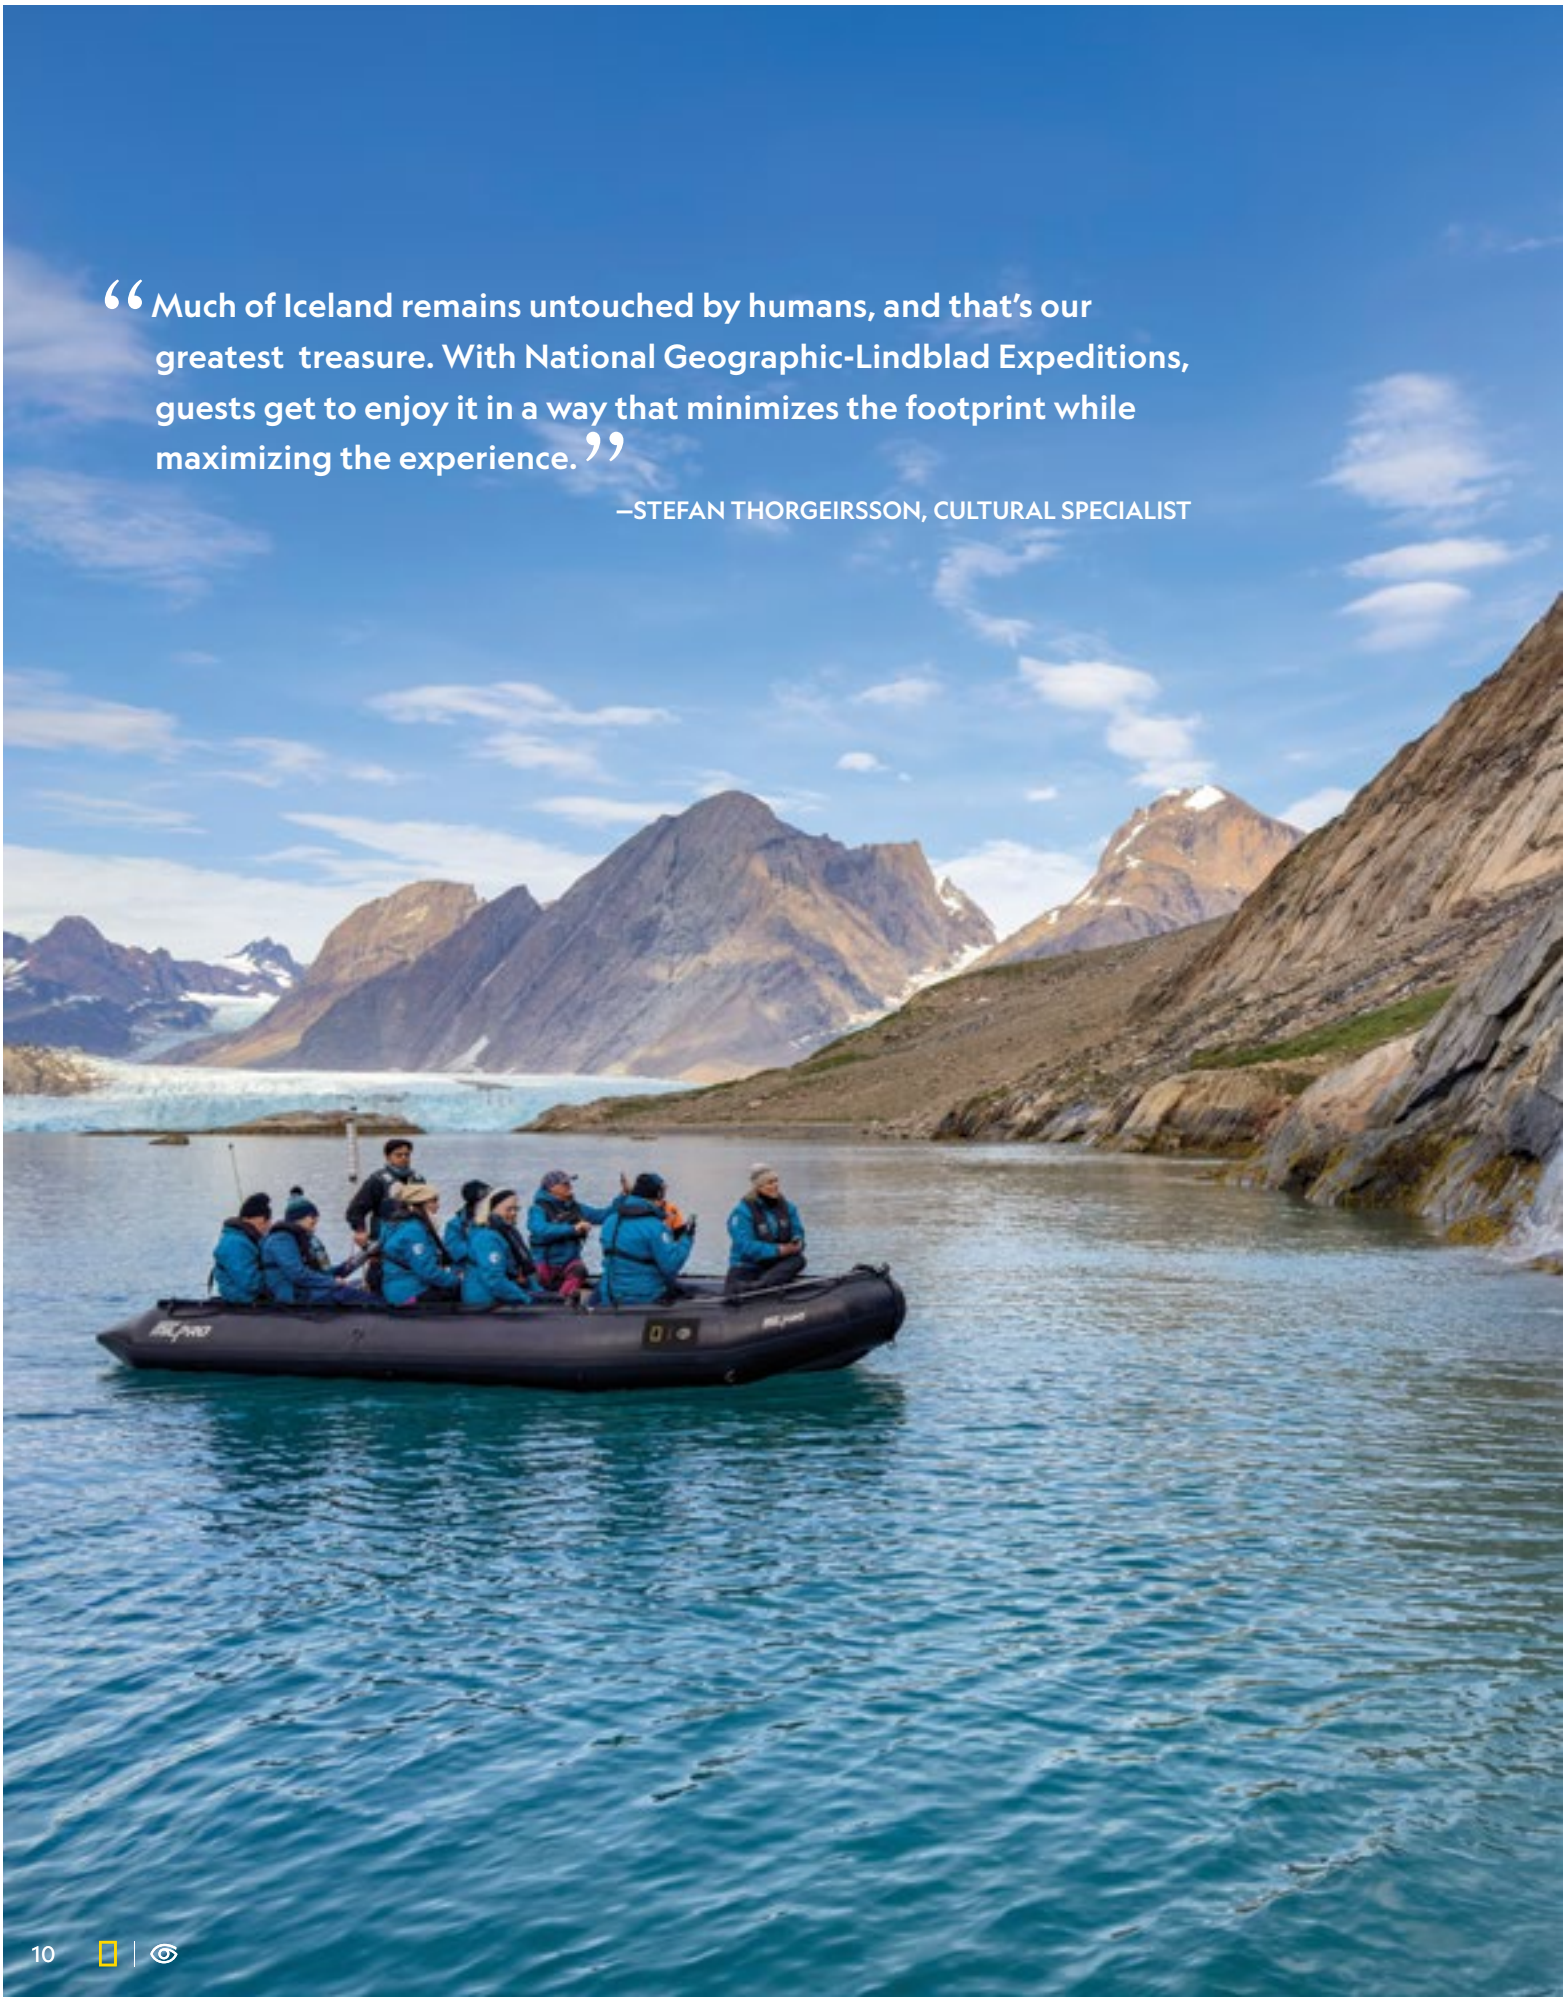

Experience a complete circumnavigation of Iceland and, new for 2028, venture deeper into East Greenland with an additional day dedicated to exploring some of the Arctic's most spectacular icescapes. See pg. 13.

Svalbard: In Search of Iconic Arctic Wildlife | 10 Days

A perennial guest favorite, this expedition explores one of the world's premier destinations for observing polar bears in the wild, along with walruses, reindeer and spectacular glacier-carved landscapes. See pg. 21.

“Much of Iceland remains untouched by humans, and that’s our greatest treasure. With National Geographic-Lindblad Expeditions, guests get to enjoy it in a way that minimizes the footprint while maximizing the experience.”

ICELAND & GREENLAND

VOLCANIC LANDSCAPES AND EPIC ICE

Iceland and Greenland reveal two sides of a restless Earth. In Iceland, volcanic forces shape geysers, waterfalls and moss-carpeted canyons, while across the Denmark Strait, Greenland's vast ice cap spills into fjords strewn with towering icebergs. Explore these worlds forged by fire and ice, tracing coastlines where Viking heritage and Inuit traditions endure. Here, nature sets the pace—from the midnight summer sun to the first shimmer of northern lights in early fall.

For the Scenery Seeker:
From Iceland's black-sand beaches to Greenland's glacial fjords, the landscapes here are nothing short of cinematic.

For the Wildlife Lover:
Iceland's cliffs teem with seabirds, including puffins, while offshore waters host humpbacks, orcas and other whale species. In Greenland, look for iconic Arctic creatures, including musk oxen, walruses and polar bears.

For the Culture Enthusiast:
Discover cultures shaped by Norse and Inuit traditions, from Iceland's vibrant coastal communities to Greenland's ancient farming settlements.

For the Active Traveler:
Experience elemental environments up close—hike to thundering waterfalls and volcanic craters in Iceland, or explore Greenland's tundra and fjords by kayak or Zodiac and on guided shore landings.

For the Young Explorer:
Select Iceland and Greenland itineraries feature the exclusive National Geographic Explorers-in-Training program, designed to engage and inspire travelers ages 18 and under.

When to Go: June–September
Spring and summer bring long days and abundant wildlife. Travel near the summer solstice for nearly endless daylight, or in early fall for a chance to see the northern lights.

“Traveling in Svalbard is a kind of lottery—one rarely knows what will be behind the next corner. It might be a stunning view or a bucket-list wildlife sighting, a walrus, an Arctic fox or maybe even a distant polar bear. The unpredictability creates a true expedition spirit, which makes Svalbard so exciting for both first-time visitors and seasoned guides like me.”

SVALBARD & NORWAY

WITNESS THE WILD BEAUTY OF THE FAR NORTH

Few places showcase the drama of their creation like Norway, where a maze of rock and water cuts the coastline from tip to tail. Sail the country's iconic fjords, or set your sights on Svalbard, an archipelago framed by snowy peaks and ice-checkered waters.

For the Scenery Seeker:
From the waterfall-laced fjords of the mainland to the snowscapes of Svalbard, Norway has some of the most stunning scenery in the far north.

For the Wildlife Lover:
Svalbard's snowy shores are as wild as the Serengeti. Set out on an Arctic safari to spot polar bears on the ice, walruses hauled out ashore and reindeer prancing across tundra.

For the Active Traveler:
Kayak amid sparkling icebergs and soaring fjords, and hike sweeping glacial valleys and jagged granite peaks.

For the Photographer:
A National Geographic Photographer joins every voyage to help you bring home your best photos.

When to Go: April–June
In spring, Svalbard is covered in ice and snow and bathed in astonishing light. The landscapes come alive in the summer when the ice starts to recede, offering more chances for wildlife watching.

CANADA

IN THE WAKE OF GREAT EXPLORERS

In the high reaches of the Canadian Arctic, near-mythic species like musk oxen and belugas rule a wild kingdom of ice and snow. Venture into their world on a journey through the fabled Northwest Passage, and discover the cultures that have thrived on this wild frontier. Or trace the lineage of Arctic exploration to the Maritimes, where vestiges of the Vikings, Basque whalers and French settlers intermingle in this once-popular landing spot for westward voyagers.

For the Scenery Seeker:
In the Northwest Passage, explore glacier-carved islands and channels that stretch for hundreds of miles—a stunning display of raw geology and big ice.

For the Wildlife Lover:
Canada is home to an incredible profusion of wildlife, including polar bears, beluga whales and walruses. You might spot rare or reclusive species, like musk oxen and narwhals.

For the Culture Enthusiast:
Delve into Canada's Indigenous cultural heritage while meeting with artisans from Inuit communities, and explore the rich seafaring traditions of the colorful fishing villages in the maritime regions.

For the Historian:
Hear the dramatic stories of the Vikings who settled on Canada's North Atlantic shores and the polar explorers who sought out the icy frontier of the Northwest Passage.

When to Go: August–September
Summer welcomes the warmest temperatures of the year—ideal for outdoor exploration. Ice in the Northwest Passage has receded to allow for a full transit and deeper exploration of remote inlets and coves.
