EXPLORE WITH NATIONAL GEOGRAPHIC-

Because How You See It Matters

For more than 20 years, the unique collaboration between National Geographic and Lindblad Expeditions has defined modern expedition cruising, connecting travelers with transformative experiences that forge meaningful relationships between people and the planet. Every voyage blends the legendary exploration spirit of National Geographic with Lindblad Expeditions' unmatched 60 years of expedition heritage.

SMALL SHIPS THAT TAKE YOU FARTHER

With more than 20 expedition and charter vessels, the fleet is among the largest and most versatile in expedition cruising. Each small ship is specially designed to explore your destination—crafted for comfort, engineered for access and equipped to bring you up close to the remote and the remarkable.

TAKE GREAT PHOTOS WITH THE PROS

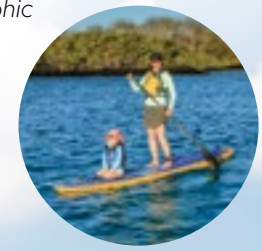

National Geographic Photographers have spent decades traveling the globe, capturing the world's most impactful images. They join select expeditions—and a National Geographic-Lindblad Expeditions certified photo instructor accompanies every departure—to help travelers hone their camera skills in captivating places.

TRAVEL WITH A WORLD-CLASS TEAM

Voyages are led by veteran captains, seasoned guides and National Geographic Expedition Experts,* with 110+ team members contributing a decade or more of fleet experience.

EXPLORE YOUR WAY, EVERY DAY

Itineraries feature a range of immersive activities that bring you into the pages of National Geographic magazine. All excursions are included unless otherwise noted, and each expedition offers options for every skill level so that you can explore your way—and at your own pace—every day.

*Available on select departures.

LINDBLAD EXPEDITIONS

REVEALING UNDERSEA WONDERS

On most departures, an undersea specialist brings marine wonders to the surface by capturing and sharing underwater footage. During daily Recaps, the specialist interprets fascinating sea creatures and geological features, offering insights integral to the story of your destination.

INSPIRING THE NEXT GENERATION OF EXPLORERS

The National Geographic Explorers-in-Training program nurtures the next generation of global stewards in fun and fascinating places. Certified field educators help connect kids with nature in a deeper way, sending them home with a passion for the planet that lasts a lifetime.

PIONEERING RESPONSIBLE EXPLORATION

The ships in the National Geographic-Lindblad Expeditions fleet are designed to operate efficiently in some of the planet's most remote regions, leveraging nimble design and carefully planned itineraries to reduce environmental impact. Thoughtful choices on board—from eliminating guest-facing single-use plastics to reducing food waste and sourcing locally grown ingredients—help minimize the fleet's footprint while strengthening the communities it visits.

INCLUSIONS CURATED FOR EXCEPTIONAL VALUE

From engaging talks and most excursions to meals, onboard amenities, airport transfers, Wi-Fi and much more—the fleet's inclusions encompass a full expedition experience.

A DAY IN GALÁPAGOS

The animals of the Galápagos are unusual, unafraid and overwhelmingly endemic, and observing them with knowledgeable guides is the hallmark of your experience.

Early Start: Rise and Roam

Greet the day with a stretch session on the open-air deck, practicing sun salutations with your wellness specialist. Or head to the bow to look for early-morning wildlife activity alongside expert naturalists. Young travelers in the National Geographic Explorers-in-Training program can begin recording the day's sightings in their official field notebooks.

A Farm-to-Table Breakfast

A fresh breakfast awaits in the dining room: bespoke omelets, a rainbow of fruits and juices, Galápagos-grown coffee and more—much of it sourced from local farms as part of the fleet's pioneering farm-to-table program.

Morning Excursion: Dive In

Snorkel in the Galápagos Marine Reserve, home to an array of captivating creatures: sea lions, technicolor fish, marine iguanas and feeding penguins. Prefer to stay dry? Join a naturalist in a Zodiac or glass-bottom boat for a cruise through a shallow bay to observe marine life at water level.

Talks and Photo Tips

Back on board, join a naturalist or a National Geographic-Lindblad Expeditions certified photo instructor in the lounge for an engaging talk or a smartphone photo tips session. Or head to the fitness center, relax in a hammock on deck or read up on Charles Darwin in the library.

A Local Lunch

Every meal on your voyage is fresh, sustainable and locally sourced—but one lunch stands out: a special Ecuadorian feast, with dishes from the country's coasts, highlands and islands. The wild-caught fish in coconut milk is a highlight.

Afternoon Excursion: Paddle, Hike or Walk

Paddle a kayak or stand-up paddleboard along the coast for a closer look at fascinating volcanic features and textures. Or head ashore with your camera in hand for a birding walk. Sightings depend on the island—but keep a lookout for waved albatrosses engaged in courtship dances and flightless cormorants diving for fish.

Ready for Recap

Meet in the lounge over drinks and hors d'oeuvres, and settle in for the daily Recap, featuring presentations and photo slideshows on the day's adventures and a preview of tomorrow's activities. The fleet often hosts researchers, national park personnel and other people living and working in the Galápagos, and one of these special guests may be tonight's featured speaker.

Seeing Stars

After a delicious dinner, bring your binoculars to the top deck for a naturalist-led stargazing session. You may have the rare opportunity to see the Big Dipper and Southern Cross at the same time—a phenomenon that only happens at the Equator.

THE ULTIMATE GALÁPAGOS EXPEDITION FLEET

National Geographic-Lindblad Expeditions sails four exceptional vessels in the Galápagos year-round, each with a unique onboard experience. Together, they offer a full spectrum of travel options, whether you wish to voyage solo or with family—or charter an entire ship for a private experience.

NATIONAL GEOGRAPHIC ENDEAVOUR II

National Geographic Endeavour II offers an ideal balance of comfort, access and immersive discovery. Thoughtfully designed to accommodate just 96 guests in 52 welcoming cabins, she provides a warm, intimate atmosphere complemented by expansive public spaces for exceptional viewing. She also carries the largest expedition team in the Galápagos fleet, making her especially well-suited for groups and families with young children.

The ship is purpose-built for in-depth exploration, equipped with a full suite of exploration tools—including a glass-bottom boat, underwater cameras, a video microscope, kayaks, stand-up paddleboards and personal snorkeling gear for every guest. Her shallow draft allows for close-up access to remote shorelines that are inaccessible to larger ships, inviting deeper connection to these remarkable islands.

Clockwise from top: Library; lounge with full-service bar and state-of-the art facilities for films, slideshows and presentations; observation deck.

NATIONAL GEOGRAPHIC DELFINA

Specially designed for cruising the islands, this sleek, luxury catamaran is the most intimate ship in the Galápagos fleet, accommodating 16 guests in eight spacious staterooms. Each cabin has a private balcony or access to an expansive wooden deck, and amenities include open-air dining and a top-deck hot tub.

National Geographic Delfina offers an active and immersive Galápagos experience. Her small guest capacity means quicker access to each adventure along the way, so you can spend more time on land and under water. And her low profile brings you closer to the ocean's surface, making wildlife easier to spot.

Ideal for private charters, the ship gives your family or group exclusive access to a complete Galápagos experience, including a certified photo instructor and the National Geographic Explorers-in-Training program for young adventurers.

NATIONAL GEOGRAPHIC GEMINI

Launched in 2001 from the same shipyard as National Geographic Orion, the highly maneuverable 48-guest National Geographic Gemini is geared for discovery, with Zodiacs, kayaks, stand-up paddleboards and snorkeling gear for each guest. She offers a variety of outward-facing cabin configurations—a mix of singles, doubles, triples and connecting cabins and suites, including the largest suites in the Galápagos fleet. Thirteen of the accommodations feature private balconies—some forward-facing—that offer a front-row seat to the surrounding wilderness.

Relax and unwind on the upper deck, where a hot tub, fitness center and spa meet your wellness needs. The outdoor café and indoor dining room accommodate all guests, and the lounge features a large bar and well-stocked library.

Clockwise from top: Category 7 suite with two separate balconies; lounge with full-service bar and facilities for films, slideshows and presentations; dining room.

NATIONAL GEOGRAPHIC ISLANDER II

National Geographic Islander II is an intrepid expedition vessel with the spirit and soul of a private yacht. She is outfitted with 26 comfortable staterooms and suites as well as sleek shared spaces that emphasize indoor-outdoor living.

Al fresco dining and an open-air observation deck and plunge pool give you the exhilarating feeling of being out on the water with all the comfort of graciously appointed living spaces. Every detail of the onboard experience—from the regional artwork to the locally sourced meals—immerses you in your Ecuadorian surroundings, while special amenities, including a well-equipped marina and a dedicated science hub, take your Galápagos explorations to a new level.

A TRAVEL EXPERIENCE FIVE DECADES IN THE MAKING

In the 1960s, the Galápagos Islands were known around the world as the inspiration for Charles Darwin's theory of evolution, but only a privileged few had experienced this legendary destination. Explorer Lars-Eric Lindblad was lured by the prospect of witnessing Darwin's famous finches and other creatures that illustrate the power of evolution in isolation.

Astounded by what he found there, Lindblad recognized the potential for tourism in the archipelago and was compelled to share its wonders—and so, he took the first international tourists to Galápagos in 1967. He had a vision for travel that was grounded in sustainability, long before the green travel movement was mainstream.

Lars-Eric Lindblad exploring the Galápagos in 1968.

> "Mr. Lindblad single-handedly brought international tourism to Galápagos, and he insisted on regulation to prevent damage to the islands. He made it so we specialize in something—a love for nature."
> — GUSTAVO VALLEJO, JOURNALIST

During these early days, Lindblad engaged local scientists, conservationists and residents whose lives and livelihoods were intertwined with their wild surroundings. They helped establish tenets for responsible travel, and today, Galapagueños serve as naturalist guides, guest speakers and hosts for island excursions, providing the most authentic experience possible.

Many of the responsible tourism guidelines Lindblad helped establish are still followed by operators today, and National Geographic-Lindblad Expeditions continues to strengthen its commitment to conservation. With the help of guests, more than $10 million has been contributed to the preservation of Galápagos habitats and communities.

With the recent addition of two ships to the Galápagos fleet—National Geographic Gemini and National Geographic Delfina—National Geographic-Lindblad Expeditions now provides an array of options so travelers can choose their ideal Galápagos experience.

These are voyages born from the relationships built and knowledge gained over more than 50 years of exploration—and they celebrate every part of this special place, from the wild sea to the stars above and the volcanic landscapes and vibrant communities in between. Whatever experience you seek in the Galápagos, you'll find it aboard the fleet, where you'll be privy to the best-kept secrets of this world-renowned destination.

NATIONAL GEOGRAPHIC EXPLORERS-IN-TRAINING

Ignite Their Spirit of Discovery

The exclusive National Geographic Explorers-in-Training program transforms the natural world into a dynamic classroom for young travelers—and it's offered on every departure in the Galápagos. Children and teens learn to explore the archipelago like scientists through photography, video, drawing and other hands-on activities. National Geographic-certified field educators mentor families through shared discoveries, while select kids-only moments build independence and confidence—all within the welcoming spirit of exploration that defines these expeditions.

PROGRAM HIGHLIGHTS

Discover how your young explorer can connect more deeply to the legendary ecosystems and wildlife of the Galápagos.

Wildlife Watching

Zip along shore in a Zodiac, then hike in search of Galápagos wildlife, like barking sea lions and marine iguanas. Snap photos with your smartphone and jot notes in your official National Geographic Explorers-in-Training Field Notebook.

Microscopic Exploration

Drop a net over the side of your Zodiac to collect plankton, and check it under a video microscope to see how it looks and moves.

Video Shoots

Get tips from your certified photo instructor on how to create impressive slow-motion and timelapse videos, then test out your new skills in the field.

License to Explore

Learn to operate a Zodiac and earn your "driver's license." (Sorry adults, kids only.)

Check Your List

Head to the ship lounge to review the wildlife you saw and mark it in your notebook. Include creatures big and small—whether it's a lava lizard or a giant tortoise. Tally your points to keep track of your progress on becoming certified as a National Geographic Explorers-in-Training.

New Friends and Fun Adventures

Meet up with your new friends for fun activities with your certified field educator. Depending on the day, it might be a pizza dinner, games in the lounge, a special hike or other surprises.

Eyes to the Night Sky

Head to the top deck to watch the stars come out as the sun goes down. Find and record constellations with the help of your certified field educators.

THE GALÁPAGOS ISLANDS

Each expedition traces a different path through the Galápagos, revealing a remarkable range of islands. Wherever you land, you'll encounter thriving wildlife and communities strengthened by decades of conservation work supported by the Lindblad Expeditions-National Geographic Fund.

SANTIAGO
Explore tide pools and search for recently reintroduced land iguanas on this island where a coastal forest and spectacular geological formations are high points.

ISABELA
Raise a glass of Ecuadorian wine as you cross the Equator in sight of Volcán Ecuador, a collapsed caldera that harbors penguins and fur seals. Watch for whales and dolphins in these rich waters, once the haunt of whalers and pirates.

FERNANDINA
An oceanic volcano, it offers opportunities to walk across lava flows and snorkel with marine iguanas and sea turtles.

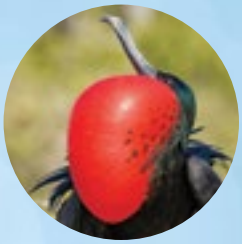

FLOREANA
Follow a trail along a rose-pink lagoon frequented by flamingos. Visit Post Office Bay, founded by 18th-century whalers, and snorkel in neighboring waters with enormous schools of tropical fish.

GENOVESA
Sail to the remote northern realm of the Galápagos, a seabird paradise bathed in warm tropical waters.

BARTOLOMÉ
Climb to the summit of this volcanic wonderland, then snorkel and swim from a golden beach where hunting penguins can often be found.

NORTH SEYMOUR
Encounter nesting frigatebirds, blue-footed boobies and land and marine iguanas, and enjoy a beautiful coastal walk.

SOUTH PLAZA
Sea lions greet you at South Plaza, an uplifted volcanic block carpeted in salt-loving succulents and teeming with wildlife, including a large colony of land iguanas.

SAN CRISTÓBAL
Search for red-footed boobies and the endemic mockingbird and lava lizard—found only on this easternmost island. Explore Baquerizo Moreno, where sea lion colonies thrive in the middle of town.

SANTA CRUZ
Meet with Galapagueños on the archipelago's most populated island. Visit the Charles Darwin Research Station and explore lush highlands where giant tortoises roam.

RÁBIDA
Snorkel along the rocky coastline among schools of tropical fish and curious sea lions before landing on a brilliant red beach to look for both land and sea birds.

ESPAÑOLA
The oldest Galápagos island, this is a haven for endemic species and many types of birds, including Española mockingbirds, Nazca boobies and, seasonally, the world's only population of waved albatrosses.

Pricing Includes: All accommodations aboard ship or in hotels per itinerary; transfers, regardless of flight or arrival/departure day, with included services; all meals as indicated in the itinerary, both aboard and onshore; beer, wine, and spirits aboard the ship (except certain super premium brands, which are available for purchase); hors d'oeuvres, 24-hour access to snacks, premium coffees and teas, non-alcoholic beverages and filtered water; excursions; arrival/departure transfers are included for hotel arrangements made through National Geographic-Lindblad Expeditions; gratuities in Guayaquil, Quito and Peru to local guides, drivers and tour escort; exploration tools curated to destination, such as Zodiacs, stand-up paddleboards, kayaks, snorkeling equipment (including wetsuits, masks, and fins); guidance and company of leading expedition staff; assistance by the National Geographic certified photo instructor; presentations by expedition staff and expert guest speakers; basic Wi-Fi; complimentary reusable water bottle; services of a physician, where available; morning stretch classes and 24-hour access to exercise equipment, where available; 24-hour access to lounge, observation decks, library and other shared spaces; park and site entrance fees, special access permits and port taxes. Unused services or items included in our programs are non-refundable.

Not Included: Airfare; pre- and post-expedition extensions; additional hotel nights (except when indicated as included); crew gratuities; laundry, spa treatments, and phone services; travel protection plans; and passport, visa and immigration fees.

Airfare: For all programs, airfare is an additional cost. National Geographic-Lindblad Expeditions will gladly assist in making your air arrangements for a $50 per person service fee.

Reservations, Deposits and Final Payments: To reserve your place, an advance payment deposit is required at the time of reservation. Receipt of advance payment deposit indicates your acceptance of the terms and conditions. Final payment schedule can be found online. Visit expeditions.com/terms for complete details about deposits and final payment schedules, which may vary by ship.

Travel Protection Plan: It is strongly recommended that you take advantage of the Travel Protection Plan. This plan offers comprehensive coverage to protect you from cancellation fees, costs incurred due to trip delays/interruption, medical assistance and damaged or lost baggage, and provides medical assistance and evacuation during your travels. The Travel Protection Plan is available for U.S. residents only and may be purchased any time prior to final payment due date. If you are not satisfied for any reason, you may return your plan within 10 days after purchase. Your premium will be refunded if canceled within 10 days, provided you have not already departed on the trip or filed a claim. When so returned, the coverage under the plan is void from the original date of purchase.

Responsibility and Other Terms & Conditions: Certain provisions concerning, among other things, limitations of Lindblad Expeditions' and National Geographic Expeditions' (a division of National Geographic Partners, LLC) liability for loss of property, injury, illness or death during the voyage will be provided to all guests on the ship's ticket sent prior to departure, and are also available on the website at expeditions.com/terms, or upon request. By registering for a trip, the guest agrees to all such terms and conditions.
